

Junior Motion Graphic Designer

The Forces Network exists to provide the best possible broadcasting for the UK armed forces and their families. We have radio stations, news teams, events specialists and engineers all over the world working alongside our military.

We are looking for someone to join us to support our Senior Graphic Designer using Creative Cloud to produce high quality visual content.

Duties will include producing motion graphic using After Effects and the wider creative cloud suite for our news team, working with commercial clients to produce graphics and animations, stationary graphic design using Illustrator, InDesign and Photoshop and occasional video editing and filming.

The successful candidate will have experience of using After Effects in a professional environment and would ideally also have knowledge of the wider Creative Cloud suite and experience working within a news, media or communications team. Understanding of the UK armed forces is also essential.

If you would like to be considered for this position, please email your CV, with a covering letter explaining how you meet the criteria for the position and indicating your salary expectation to opportunities@ssvc.com
